THE TRIAL OF W. M. NAGLE

He Shot Basket and Trems, Who Were Boarders in His House-Nagle's $2,000 Life Insurance Policy Found in Basket's Pocket.

MEWPORT NEWS, VA., April 80,-'Te morrow morning all of the union carpen-ters in the city, except those employed at the shipyard, will go out on a strike. 10 o'clock to-morrow morning there will be a meeting of the Carpenters' Union at the Contral Labor Union Hall for the purpose of making all arrangements for conducting the strike and carrying the fight through to a finish.

The carpenters held a meeting last night to receive the report of a committee appointed to call upon the contractors and make an effort to arbitrate the trouble. The committee reported that the contractors had refused to hold a meeting to consider the matter, and would not take notice of the demands of the union. The committee recommended that the strike be ordered and that the meeting to-morrow morning be held.

After considerable discussion the report and recommendation of the committee was adopted in full, and a committee was appointed to conduct the strike.

About two hundred men will be affected by this action, and it is probable that all of the contractors in the city will be more or less affected by it.

Both the plumbers and the painters of the city have made demands for higher wages, and the bosses have refused to notice the demands. The unions held meetings last night, but did not take final action. It is probable that both of the unions will order strikes. The plumbers and painters employed at the shipyard will not be affected.

TRIAL OF NAGLE.

The trial of W. M. Nagle, who shot and so scriously wounded Dessie L. Basket several days ago, and who also slightly wounded a man named Tromp, is set for to-morrow in the Polico Court. Nagle is still in a critical condition. One of the balls entered his liver, and although he has been holding his own remarkably, it is still feared that he will not recover. Tremp, the man who was wounded in the hand, cannot be located by the authorities, and it is not known whether or not he will be on hand to testify to-morrow He would have been arrested and held as a witness if he had not disappeared on the night that one of the police sergeants went to his house to look for him.

Admiral Dewey, After Inspecting Fleet Returns to Washington.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., April 80.—
Rear-Admiral A. S. Barker is the commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic Squadron, having relieved Rear-Admiral F. J. Higginson to-day at noon at the Southern drill ground, outside of the Virginia Capes. The transfer of flags on the battleship Kearsarge took place cariler than was expected, and the review and inspection of the squadron by Admiral George Dewey was not nearly so long and so elaborate a function as the press dispatches from Washington indicated before the arrival of the ships from Southern waters, where they had been manceuvering all winter. A portion of the squadron was scheduled to sail this afternoon for Tompkinsville, N. Y., the other ships to come to Hampton Roads. Rear-Admiral Higginson this afternoon accompanied Admiral Dewey, Rear-Admiral Taylor and members of the Naval General Board back to Old Point. Rear-Admiral Barker sailed this afternoon for Tompkinsville with the battleships Kearsarge (Hagship), Alabama, Iowa and Massachisetts, which will go in dry dock at Erocklyn Navy Yard and prepare for the cruise to the Azores in the summer.

The battleships Illinois and Texas, the cruiser Olympia and the refrigerating ship Culgea came to Old Point. The Illinois will go in dry dock at the navy yard, acording to the present arrangement. It is reported that the Texas and Olympia will later return to Culebra to form the principal strength of what will be known as the home protection squadron while the battleships are away. The Illinois will later rejoin the squadron under Rear-Admiral Barker.

G. Tyler welcomed the visitors. After Dr. Tyler's remarks, short speeches were made by Mr. Ogden, Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of Review of Reviews; Dr. Francis Peabody and others.

An informal reception for a few minutes was held, after which the college, Bruton Church and the many places of historic interest were visited. They seemed charmed with the reception and were greatly interested in all they saw. In his speech Dr. Shaw called attention to the fact that "it is just one hundred years ago to-day, about this hour, when Thomas Jefferson signed the treaty-with France, which is known as the Louislana Purchase, and Jefferson came from William and Mary."

The visitors left this afternoon for the North.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHRISTIANSBURG, VA., April 30.—
A notorious and desperate negro was arrested near hero by Constable J. R.
Rogers and a posse of oldzens last night on the charge of robbery and attempted murder. This negros whose name is on the charge of robbery and attempted murder. This negros whose name is Bird Wade, and another, who gave his names as Henry Burns, held up and robbed two colored laborers at Walton, in this county, Tuesday morning, of money and valuables worth about fitteen dollars, and then came on to Blacksburg, where Wade's parents live. The negroes who were robbed came here and reported the case to the, authorities, and the grand jury being in session, Wade and Burns were indicted and a bench warrant issued for their arrest. Deputy Sheriff C. L. Price located them in Blacksburg yesterday, and summoned several citizens to assist him in making the arrest, Wade showed fight, while Burns took to his heels and was captured by Constable S. M. Grissom after a chase of two miles through the fields, and was then brought to jail by him. Wade refused to be handcuffed, and when the officers made the attempt to place them on him he draw a pistol, which he had up his sleeve, and tried to shoot Sheriff Price, but fortunately one of the men grabbed his hand and, forced his finger behind the trigger, thereby preventing a murder. He was then overpowered and placed in Irons, and Sheriff Price and Mr. J. D. Stanger stafred to fall with him in a hack. LEXINGTON, VA., April 80.-Consider

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

IEXXINGTON, VA., April 30.—Considerable interest is being aroused at Washington and Lee University over the bright prospects for an interesting regatta at commencement. This part of the commencement transpart of the commencement exercises is by far the most attractive to the general public, especially because of its richness in spectacular effects.

A new boat has been purchased this year, and its arrival is expected within the next few days. Only last year a new boat had to be bought, which cost over $20. The new one will be of the same pattern, which is a cedar shell, and will cost something like $425. Thus for once the two crews will be equally matched, so far as the boats are concerned. In former years one crew always rowed at a disadvantage, from the fact that one boat was always an old craft.

The two crews will be equally matched, and the Albert Sidneys (the blues). A large number of men are now in training for positions on the crews, and selections for positions will shortly be made, when practice in dead earnest will begin. The prospects are bright for the Albert Sidneys, because all of last year's crew are back except Coxewain Keeble. That crew is said to enjoy the distinction of being the best crew ever at the University. They went the race last year's crew are brighted to the properties of the p
